

CHURCHILL MAKES PROPOSALS FOR NAVAL DISARMAMENT

HOLIDAY IN NAVY BUILDING IS PROPOSED

First Lord of Admiralty Endorses suggestion of German Chancellor.

BANDON BUILDING WARSHIPS FOR A YEAR

Would Have Good Effect Upon Other Powers Says Churchill

Bulletin Leased Wire.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—Addressing a seat Liberal meeting at Manchester yesterday, Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, pressed on behalf of the admiralty and the navy, keen, severe, or zealous, his views. Then he proceeded to comment upon disputes occasioned by exports raised upon him much higher than he said were ever known. While next year it might be still, the intent of the government was to do away with the serious misdirection of human energy involved in this and other naval armaments, existing burdens were to be relieved, it continued; this must be left to internal relations.

Relations With Germany Improved.

"Our relations with Germany," said Mr. Churchill, "have been greatly improved during the past year, and we are on better terms with other countries. The moment, therefore, not to be ungrateful, is to thank our friends in Germany for their reference to the question of a naval holiday, which is to be found in the minds of all who have given thought to the matter. I have been able to see that the German government have reached the position where the relations between the great powers have become so good that we can have home, produce no effect on warlike preparations."

The proposal, he said, would forward the interests of his majesty's government in quite a simple manner. Apart from the naval holiday, there was no proposal, part of any scheme, which had been proposed by new developments, we must lay down those great ships to come, and those which are now in hand, there is plenty of time, in all friendliness, to submit to our great neighbors, Germany, France, Italy, and Russia, our will postpone beginning our big naval armament for a year, and for exactly the same period."

WILL MEET ROYAL PARTY.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—Provisional President Huerta has not designated a date for the royal visit. When seen at the National Palace about five o'clock this afternoon he said he had not yet done so.

"When I resign," said General Huerta, "it will be to seek a resting place, not to seek a place from which to shoulder a rifle and make my place in the ranks to fight again."

General Huerta's answer to queries as to whether there was any foundation for the reports that he had been offered a place in the capital, and found their way to the United States.

General Huerta looked the picture of health and energy. Attired in a brand new dark suit, he gesticulated with extreme cordiality, motioned him to a seat, asked for a cigarette and listened with the explanation of the visit.

"I say we can do something," said the president. "You can see that to say I have resigned or intend to resign is an absolute falsehood. I have no intention of resigning."

WILL NOT GO TO ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Right Hon. R. B. Borden, Mr. Borden, Hon. Frank Cochrane and Mrs. Cochrane, Hon. Robert Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, and Mr. George D. French, where they will spend a few days prior to the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

WILL NOT MEAN.

That would mean a complete hold-up of the Canadian navy, and for a big as ships are concerned, we are, Great Britain and Germany.

WILL NOT PAY BIGGER LICENSES.

Hotels Must Pay $5,000 Per Year—Clubs Must Pay According to Size

Breweries Must Pay $5,000 Per Year—Clubs Must Pay According to Size

Increased license fees will be demanded from hotel and other places of public assembly, and from the point of view of the construction of the national transcontinental, remarks Mr. Churchill, in addressing liquor license regulations for Alberta which will be passed at the session of the legislature in December. The country had progressed Joliette had felt the impetus with the coming of the Canadian Northern, and the railway, which will visit the city next Thursday, and has called a special conference of all the ministers concerned to be held in the First Presbyterian Church.

The object of this conference is not to discuss the proposed legislation, but to get the views of the members of the executive, who will be present, and to get the views of the members of the legislative assembly.

Mr. Churchill said that the bill will be brought under the Liquor License Act, and the following taxes will be charged: Clubs in cities of over 10,000 population, $20,000; and over $10,000; $10,000; $6,000; and over $4,000; $4,000; and over $10,000.

In order that purely drinking clubs may be abolished clubs holding themselves to be required to provide what is necessary for the welfare, even the endurance of our civilization that they are not to be allowed to do, that this question of armament shall be openly discussed not only by diplomats and governments, but by the peoples."

HOME GUARD QUESTION.

Mr. Churchill referred to the question of Home Guard, and the motion to withdraw from his Dundee speech. The two great parties had agreed to support the Home Guard subject of Ireland. This profound evolution, so thought, had received the assent of the Conservative party, if we liberally construed the legitimate wishes of the Ulster Protestants, and if Conservatives, turned their minds to the problems of nationality, and the overwhelming preponderance of the Conservative party.

CANADIAN AUTOS ABROAD.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Canadian motor car manufacturers are sending automobiles to the Ulster Dominion. According to reports received by the trade conference committee, Canadian auto makers value at $10,000 to $12,000 per car, and the value of $24,000 was sent to South Africa.

Increasingly to the problems of safety, and the overwhelming nationalities.

IN THE CITY CHURCHES

The Thanksgiving festival was almost universally observed in the city churches yesterday, special services being held in all of them to mark the significance of the date being preached. Large congregations were the rule, and the services, especially the ones in the evening, when the crowds were turned away from some of the downtown churches for lack of accommodation.

It was a great day for Highland Methodist church. It was the occasion of the formal dedication of the new building. R. C. Chown, treasurer, read a statement of the amount of $41,110.00, and of $16,400. This was a deficit of $14,110.00, and Mr. Chown said that an offering of the day of $1,000.00, so that this debt could be wiped off. The result exceeded his expectations.

Thirteen hundred dollars, including cash on hand, dollars in cash, was surrendered in total, and the evening service, another large offering was received, and the amount mentioned during the day being $2,301.

The special preacher was the Rev. G. W. Moore, of the University College, Calgary. In the morning he preached from the text, "And Moses did his best to save the people from the life of Moses as one of service, suffering and sacrifice for his fellow Moses." The sermon was a summary of the law he had handed down when we were the foundation of all our strength.

At the close of the service the bell-tolling was dedicated by Rev. Theo. Powe, of the First Presbyterian church, president of the Alberta Conference, assisted by Rev. A. W. Coome, Rev. A. C. Hoffman and the pastor, Rev. L. S. Wright.

At the evening service, Rev. Kervin spoke on the subject "My Country, My Glory, My Heritage." Referring particularly to this province, he said Alberta can be proud of her, and she is as large as France with her thirty-five million people. We had every known minister of the gospel here, and he fully expected to take up his morning paper some day and find that dividends had been discovered in the Rockies.

Ecclesiastical services were rendered by Dr. E. H. Dillistone, the lector-archivist of the Anglican Church. The Sunday School orchestra assisted at the morning service, and played excellently.

Special Thanksgiving services were held yesterday at Holy Trinity church. At the morning service the sermon was preached by Bishop Stringer, of the Anglican Church, and a graphic account of his work among the people of the far west, especially the Indians, was made. His sermon appealed for more intelligent interest in this work, and for more generous support.

The evening preacher was the Rev.

"THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

Tuesday evening, October 23, to be held in the assembly hall of MacKay Avenue school.

Dr. Armstrong, new pastor of MacKay Church, and Mrs. Armstrong received for the first time since coming to Edmonton yesterday.

Mrs. Armstrong was powed in brown, the centre of the table was a rare Japanese vase of autumn blossoms. Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. H. C. McMillan, the parsonage, College avenue, was thongled all afternoon and evening.

Mr. R. A. Dickson was the host of a dinner given on Friday at home in honor of his sister Miss Ward, who is visiting him. On Friday Mr. Dickson was greatly interested in the bandstand of the First Presbyterian church that even while the average of excellence of the band was maintained at the usual run of concerts, the splendid artistry of Miss Cecilia Carter, the violinist, made it necessary to be forsoothen.

The exquisitely played violin by Miss Carter, as well as her two later solos, were received with round of applause. The club is fortunate in having such a player.

The soft tones of the violins were heard to great advantage under masterly direction of Mr. H. C. McMillan, who, with his two members, delighted the audience by joying in the fact that this instrument is so seldom heard.

The brilliant band, of two well-trained voices was heard with delight. Unfortunately it had great difficulties with Miss Maxfield and Miss Letta Carter, Fleming, while Miss Eliza Clegg, the prettiest of the old-time song "The Rose" with the delecto air. Miss Fleming, and Mr. H. C. McMillan assisted in starting the house received her first solo with a round of applause.

Mr. G. D. Hunt, Mrs. Knight, Miss Carter. About fifty guests were present.

WOMEN'S MUSICAL CLUB.

A packed audience listened with interest on Saturday afternoon to one of the best musical programs ever offered by the Women's Musical Club. It was generally admitted by the large number of musicians present that the performance of the First Presbyterian church that even while the average of excellence of the band was maintained at the usual run of concerts, the splendid artistry of Miss Cecilia Carter, the violinist, made it necessary to be forsoothen.

The exquisitely played violin by Miss Carter, as well as her two later solos, were received with round of applause. The club is fortunate in having such a player.

Co-Operation In Social Work

If we had to express the motto of the 20th century in one word that would certainly be "co-operation." Trusts, unions, federations—whatever may be the term we are using with reference to the organization of society—rarely if ever last long. They are rapidly being merged in community of interest. "Each for all and all for the common good" is the motto of the day. The old message has become vibrant with living truth that "Co-operation" means more to man than does "selfishness."

As in other phases of work, so in philanthropy and charitable work, co-operation has been the watchword.

The Scott Thompson entered at the door of the hall on Friday evening.

Mr. Thompson, an old blue minnow mounted on ivory satin, enhanced with pink embroidery and pink glass beads, was the most attractive figure in the pretty room, stately rarer grace of them gracing the table. Here Mrs. Scott, Mrs. H. C. McMillan, Mrs. H. D. Dewey, Mrs. D. H. Hill, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. G. D. Hunt, Mrs. E. H. Ward assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Archibald, Mrs. Alfred Wright, Mrs. J. A. Neff, Mrs. H. D. Dewey, Mrs. Marion Nicholson, Mrs. Mount D. H. Haines, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. George Downes, Mrs. Hunter Gowen, Mrs. George Gowen, Mrs. Magoun, Mrs. F. W. McMillan, Mrs. Eileen Evans, Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. H. D. Dewey, Mrs. H. D. Hill, Mrs. D. H. Hill, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. D. F. Ferris, Mrs. Form, Miss Lowe Dawson, Mrs. Richardson, Miss Weston, Miss Evelyn Murphy.

As in the social side of life, there has been, in the past few years, a marked increase in the number of social service organizations.

The Lion and the Mouse, the old play, charmed young and old as the flowers were "pink shapes" all went as merrily as the proudest.

Streams of bunting, colorful decorations and flags made a bright decorative scene.

The patrons included Mrs. Shone, Mrs. James Douglas, Mrs. Marion, Mrs. James, Mrs. E. H. Hill, Mrs. Eileen, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Jameson.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1913.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

As set forth in another column by Lieutenant-Governor Bayley, in his annual thanksgiving message to the people of the province, Alberta has this year more reason for feelings of gratitude and thanksgiving than in any year previously.

An agricultural province, dependent to a very large extent upon crop conditions, the yield of grains of all kinds this year has been one of which the province may well be proud. Until threshing is actually completed, it will not be possible to tell with certainty the exact yield per acre, but there is not much doubt that the yield will be above the average. Taken in conjunction with the fact that not a single district in the province has recorded a crop failure, and that the extremely favorable weather has enabled the crop to grow in record breaking condition, it will then be seen how widespread is the general prosperity, and how universal the cause that should lead every heart to swell with feelings of gratitude for such pleasing material conditions.

It is true that this has been a year of financial stringency and dearer living, and the consequent limitation of activities has been felt in varying degrees in all quarters alike, but the revenue from the abundant harvest should do much to relieve the situation, while the temporary check may not have been an unmixed blessing if it has taught us a lesson of the evils of unsupervised spending.

Alberta looks forward to the future with confidence, unfaltering and unafraid, and for a few hours today her citizens can well afford to suspend their business operations while with thankful hearts they reflect upon the many blessings that have fallen to their lot during the past year.

WILL THE FOLLYBE CONTINUED?

Under the new United States tariff Canadian wheat is subject to the duty of ten cents per bushel so long as Canada maintains a tariff against United States wheat. As Canada produces more wheat than it knows what to do with, the object in maintaining a duty against United States wheat is as mysterious as the purpose of the United States in wanting it abolished. The ways of the case are not the important points, however. These are that Canada has a duty against United States wheat, and that so long as this stands the cost of Canadian wheat will be pushed also against our wheat entering the United States. What the existence of this barrier means to the Canadian wheat grower, and to the whole business community which is dependent upon his success, is appreciable in an approximate way from a comparison of prices ruling in the Canadian and United States wheat centres. Western Canada has this year on a modest estimate 150,000,000 bushels of wheat for which an export market must be found. A difference of one cent per bushel means a difference of one and one-half million dollars in the wheat grower for his crop, and by him turned into the channels of trade and industry. The prices of wheat in Winnipeg range at least three cents per bushel lower than Minneapolis prices. That is to say, could the farmers of the Prairies receive the same per bushel price for the wheat they now are now hauling to the elevators, they would receive four and a half millions of dollars more than they will receive. It may be that the removal of the United States duty would be followed by a rise in Winnipeg prices to the present Minneapolis level. The equilibrium might be restored by the twofold movement of a sag in Minneapolis prices and a rise in Winnipeg prices. But that the resultant level would be somewhat higher than the present minimum level is a general and every cent per bushel gained by the result would increase the net income from the prairie wheat crop by one dollar per head for every man, woman and child in the three Provinces. The total net gain in the readjustment of the present year's crop might run up to something like a half million dollars. The addition of half that sum to the trading capital of Western Canada would have a very real and not inconsiderable effect upon business conditions, the payment of obligations, the employment of labor, the profits of the merchant and the general welfare of the country and town alike. In common terms, Western Canada "needs this money in its business." As the removal of the United States duty and the readjustment of prices can be secured by the withdrawal of a tax against United States wheat, Canadian interest and legitimate good, it is to be hoped the Government will end the coming season of Parsonite wipe out the useless impost and give to the farmer and the country at large the benefits which are this year denied through the folly of recent arrangement.

CorrespondenceEDMONTON SAVINGS ESCAPE TO FOUND BANK

Editor Bulletin:

—A recent estimate gives the figures of the total savings of the Canadian people at the present time as $1,000,000,000, which figure is some fifty million better than the figures of July. Taking the population of Canada and the city of Edmonton at 65,000, this would make Edmonton's share proportionately of the savings at $6,500,000.

According to these figures there is about $10 in savings on deposit for every man, woman and child in Edmonton.

It is reasonable to suppose that Edmonton's share would be proportionately of the total savings of all financial institutions. Add to this the district share and Edmonton's savings, city and district, would be larger than the capitalization of all banks in Canada.

If Edmonton's share of the savings of Canada amount to $6,500,000, they are larger than the paid-up capital of half a dozen banks which include the Bank of Nova Scotia, whose paid-up capital is $4,942,476; Dominion Bank, $4,000,000; Union Bank, $3,900,000; and the Imperial Bank, $3,000,000 (fully capitalized for paid-up capitals).

This means that if the people of Edmonton, or of the surrounding community or local bank, they could save $100,000,000, this would be far greater than the paid-up capital of the above-named Canadian banks. It means that if the people of the community and district wanted to put their savings into the capitalization of a community or local bank, they could easily do so, and could do so with a paid-up capital larger than any paid-up bank capital in Canada.

Presently the Bank of Canada has shown the total paid-up capital of the Canadian banks is only about one-fifth of the amount of money on deposit in the Canadian banks by the people.

The people put in five times as much cash as the promoters and shareholders put in, and the figures are very interesting in view of recent statements that Canada is in the hands of the United States, and that the most trust which controls the financial situation in all times prospers in good times and does not prosper in bad times.

It has also been stated that these Canadian banks use money very largely from Canadian savings in the promotion of industries in Canada.

The question of local and community banks has been assuming considerable attention. There are, of course, reasons for and against; one reason being that the people in the community have confidence in their own institutions. United States cities and towns have had a number of local and small banks and the system has apparently been successful to the business men.

In the Canadian Western provinces, Saskatchewan has been the most advanced in this respect. There are two local banks in the city of Regina, one being the Weyburn Security Bank and the other the Bank of Saskatchewan. There are also the Hitchcock & McDonald Bank, which is an institution strongly supported by the business men.

1912 only advantage perhaps of note in a community bank is that in times of emergency these banks will be in a position to lend the money of a certain district for the development or the amateur development of that district or district. It is not very likely that the Weyburn Security Bank is sending any money to New York or to Europe, but it is not very probable that the Bank of Saskatchewan is sending the savings of the people of Saskatchewan to New York or to America or to the West Indies. The Weyburn money is kept in Weyburn and used for the benefit of the Saskatchewan, and no doubt the Saskatchewan money is kept in Saskatchewan and used for Saskatchewan.

Another financial stringency like that of 1912 arises in Canada, the need of community and local banks to meet the emergency of the trust. It seems strange indeed that with $300,000,000 on deposit, Canada and the Canadian banks should be subjected to such unnecessary stringency at the hands of the banks.

JAS. J. HILL IN BAD WRECK AT NELSON, WIS., SATURDAY

Express Train to Which His Private Car Was Attached Collides With Local

FIREMAN OF LOCAL INSTANTLY KILLED

Accident Occurred on Burlington Line—Hill Is Quite Badly Shaken Up

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 18.—Another bad wreck occurred at 9 o'clock this morning on the Burlington Road at Nelson, Wisconsin, when a northbound express train, No. 27, with James J. Hill in his private car, at the head, met a southbound passenger train, No. 54, Fireman Elliott of Des Moines, on the local, was instantly killed, being badly mangled. Several others were slightly injured.

The express train was late and ran along for two miles an hour and the engineer failed to notice the black signal in the fog. The local train was then running at full speed and the engineer observed the express train's approach. He reversed his engine and stopped it, but the engine on the local train was standing on the car platform and was thrown some distance, hitting the fireman who was killed. The express messenger on the express train and a few of the passengers were slightly injured, but not seriously. The engineer and fireman on the express also escaped.

President Hill was shaken up not much hurt. The express engine, which had been running at full speed, was on the express train, both engines were badly wrecked.

The express train was derailed for some time after the collision but trains were operated past that point on a siding.

The Throne of Hanover.

Porto, Oct. 17.—The Tugelche Butschau said the Prussian government had unanimously the motion passed by the Prussian government yesterday to the effect that the Duke of Brunswick, the express renunciation of Hanover by Prince Ernest August of Cumber- land, was to be accepted. The Duke had taken the military oath and, in a letter to the imperial chancellor, given up his claim to the throne of Hanover or his father's claim to the throne of Hanover. The Tugelche Butschau said the Duke had given up the throne of Hanover without being permitted nor accepts the throne of Brunswick without an express renunciation of his pretensions to the throne of Hanover.

SCHOOL KIDDIES POSE FOR BULLETIN PHOTOGRAPHER.

Here is a picture of some of the seven hundred school children who entered the Monarchs Theatre Saturday as the guests of the Bulletin. The children are all shown in the utmost enjoyment of the wonderful motion pictures of "Tombstone," the novel by Sir Walter Scott. To any one who has read the book there are few that have not—the film is particularly interesting, in view of the fact that every foot of them was made on the actual scene described by Scott. "Tombstone" will be shown in the general public on Monday and Tuesday.

Church of the Sacred Heart To Be Completed December 1st

Handsome Church Edifice, Corner of Kristino Avenue and Ross Street, Will Be Landmark in the Eastern Portion of City by Reason of High Spire and Imposing Design

(From Evening Edition)

The church of the Sacred Heart, the largest sacred building east of the Duane, is rapidly progressing completion will be imminent within and without by December 1st.

The new church is located at the corner of Kristino Avenue and Ross street, and its high spire which it is surrounded forms a prominent landmark in that portion of the city.

The building is of imposing design and the exterior work is pressed brick, which is to be covered with stone, is handsomely finished. The body of the church is raised some distance above the ground floor, and entrance is gained by a flight of steps from Kristino avenue.

Work is in progress on the fittings in the interior of the building is now in progress, and when this has been completed it is expected that the equipment of Great Britain's naval construction program next year if Germany would consent to do the same.

Gibson Son to Kingston.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Charles Gibson, the convicted slayer of Joseph Rosenwald, was taken to Kingston penitentiary this morning, there to begin his term of life imprisonment.

The plans for the church were prepared by Hardie & Martland, and the construction and interior work are being done by the firm of G. L. Cervin of A. J. McCormack.

FALLS INTO WELL AND BREAKS NECK

Shocking Accident at Athabasca—Victim Recently Stationed at Herschell Island

(From Evening Edition)

The victim of the accident was Mr. Chas. Tellier, French Inventor, at age of 86 in destitute condition.

FUND FOR HIS RELIEF HAS BEEN EMBEZZLED

Invalid Son Is Subject of Constant Worry on Part of Aged Genius

Paris, Oct. 18.—Chas. Tellier, the inventor of the cold storage process, which first enabled American packers to export meat, is dying in a destitute condition at the age of 86, having learned yesterday that the report was found to be true.

The cold storage Cold Storage Association recently raised $20,000 for the benefit of Mr. Tellier. One-half of the amount was paid him, but he died before the money was received, but the money has not yet reached Paris. Mr. Tellier refused to accept the money, however, because he was still able to earn his living and preferred to leave the money to his son, who is a fisherman where Mr. Tellier worked, recently failed and the Cold Storage Association sent him a letter asking him an offer of money, which was never received.

On the other hand, the Paris Military newspaper writes to Mr. Tellier yesterday to the effect that his hook-nosed wife, who had been ill and unable to work, had died.

It is hoped that the money will be used to send some money before the end of the month, when it is expected that Mr. Tellier will have to go home.

He was a Kingfisher, under thirty years of age, and had served two years in the British navy, returning here two months ago. The com-moner's jury is at present stalling.

Don't Spoil Your Trip Abroad

by losing your money—losing time in presenting funds—or parting over the intricacies of foreign exchange. Traveller's checks issued by this bank are a protection, a convenience, a necessity. If lost or stolen, they can be cashed at any bank in the world, and are redeemable by banks in the trading stations. They are self-identifying, and are cashed at the face value. Our Traveller's Cheques will certainly add to the pleasure of the above details.

Thirty years ago Mr. Tellier discovered a method of freezing food by means of dry ice. He conducted his laboratory and perfected the process. He converted the ship La Legion into a floating laboratory and decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor. At that time he was found to be lacking funds to continue his experiments, so a fund was started for his benefit. This is the fund referred to in the above details.
